HEMIPLEGIA—NURSING CARE

791. Moore, Dorothy

The hemiplegia patient as a person. Public Health Nursing. Oct., 1948
40:10:511-517.

A helpful, intelligent treatment of the home nursing care of a hemiplegia patient. Clinical aspects, bed positions, physical therapy and emotional aspects are considered, with constructive instructions throughout.

INSURANCE (HEALTH)

See 830.

LATERALITY

792. Phelps, Winthrop M.

Left hand, right hand; the experiences of doctors with cerebral palsied children on the problems of handedness, by Winthrop M. Phelps and T. Arthur Turner. Hygeia. Nov., 1948. 26:11:808-809, 822.

Dr. Phelps stresses importance of dominance in good hand as a necessary step to successful rehabilitation of a cerebral palsied child. Continued use of a disabled hand which previously had been dominant is the greatest mistake possible.

MENTAL DEFECTIVES

793. Goldstein, Irwin.

Implications of mental deficiency. Am. J. of Mental Deficiency. Oct., 1948.
53:2:207-226.

Definition, characteristics, variations, and the personal, social and educational implications of the mentally retarded child are treated fully. Contains a comprehensive chart giving fact, fiction and references concerning the mentally retarded.

MENTAL DEFECTIVES--PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTS

794. Sloan, William.

Prediction of extramural adjustment of mental defectives by use of the Rorschach test. J. of Consulting Psychology. Sept.-Oct., 1948. 12:5:303-309.

Report of a study of 15 pairs of mental defectives who had been released for wage placement. In each instance one member had been returned for failure while the other member was still employed. Comparisons of pairs were made on the basis of the Rorschach test. Results gave no apparent reason for success or failure. Indefinite conclusions indicate need for further evaluation of this method of testing.

MENTAL DEFECTIVES--SPECIAL EDUCATION

795. Farrell, Malcolm J. and others.

A day class for community pupils in an institution for the mentally retarded, by Malcolm J. Farrell, Mildred F. Brazier and John T. Shea. Am. J. of Mental Deficiency. Oct., 1948. 53:2:187-192.

Experiences with an experimental day class organized for mentally handicapped individuals at the Walter Fernald State School in Waverly, Mass. Typical program for the day is given. The class is in its second year and has proven successful thus far.

796. Harns, Ernest.

Training for teachers of mentally handicapped children. School and Society. Oct. 30, 1948. 68:1766:239-292.

807. Disabilities: 14. Poliomyelitis. Lancet. Oct. 9, 1948. 255:6528:582-583.

An account of the recovery of a patient afflicted with polio during the epidemic in Dublin in 1941. Biography cites progress of muscle redevelopment.

POLIOMYELITIS--PHYSICAL THERAPY

808. Delorme, Thomas L.

The response of the quadriceps femoris to progressive-resistance exercises in poliomyelitic patients, by Thomas L. Delorme, Robert S. Schwab and Arthur L. Watkins. J. of Bone and Joint Surgery. Oct., 1948. 30:4:834-847.

"The qualitative and quantitative evidence presented supports the hypothesis that, following acute anterior poliomyelitis, the remaining innervated muscles respond to progressive-resistance exercises by an increase in strength and work capacity in much the same manner as normal muscles."

809. Watkins, Arthur L.

Some contributions of physical medicine in poliomyelitis. New York State J. of Medicine. Aug. 1, 1948. 48:15:1729-1732. Reprint.

Primary field of treatment for poliomyelitis is physical medicine. "Recent research has provided a scientific basis for the use of heat and therapeutic exercise. New techniques for improving muscle strength, even in late cases, have been developed by means of progressive resistance exercises."

PSYCHIATRY

See 831.

READING

810. Pugh, Gladys S.

Appraisal of the silent reading abilities of acoustically handicapped children. J. of Exceptional Children. Oct., 1948. 15:1:10-14, 32.

Report on a study made of the reading ability of acoustically handicapped children. Results indicate that with proper education deaf pupils can become competent readers.

RECREATION

See 832.

REHABILITATION

811. Rusk, Howard A.

Rehabilitation; a challenge to education, by Howard A. Rusk and Eugene J. Taylor. J. of Educational Sociology. Sept., 1948. 22:1:44-50. Reprint.

328. Wolfe, William Gerald.

A comprehensive evaluation of fifty cases of cerebral palsy. (Iowa City, Ia.) The author, 1947. 92 p., tab. Typed.

Dissertation for Doctor of Philosophy, State University of Iowa, August, 1947.

"This study is designed to evaluate a representative group of cerebral palsied children between the ages of five years and twenty years for the purpose of determining the physical, intellectual, educational and speech status of these children and of defining the nature of the services which would be required in order to effect maximal rehabilitation."

EDUCATION--TENNESSEE

329. Tennessee. State Department of Education.

Public education in Tennessee; a study of Tennessee's program of public education and suggestions of continuing its development. Nashville, Tenn., The Dept., 1948. 154 p.

A report prepared in accordance with Chapter 121, Public Acts of Tennessee, 1945.

The education of the mentally and educationally exceptional children, p. 26-30.

A study made of the educational facilities available in Tennessee, critical evaluation of the findings and recommendations for the improvement of present programs.

INSURANCE (HEALTH)

330. Goldman, Franz.

Voluntary medical care insurance in the United States. New York, Columbia Univ. Pr., 1948. 228 p. $3.00

"A companion volume to Public Medical Care by the same author, Voluntary Medical Care Insurance is the first comprehensive account of the development of voluntary medical care insurance in the U. S. over the last twenty years. It traces the progress of major types of programs from the mid-nineteenth century to the present; digests pertinent statements of national voluntary organizations; describes and evaluates the policies and practices of various types of cash indemnity plans and of the outstanding service plans; and summarizes the limitations and possibilities of the entire principle of voluntary medical care insurance, as indicated by broad experience both in this country and abroad."

PSYCHIATRY

331. Menninger, William C.

You and psychiatry, by William C. Menninger and Munro Leaf. New York, Charles Scribner's sons, 1948. 175 p. $2.50

"Addressed to the layman, You and Psychiatry deals with the vital discoveries of psychiatry that effect every individual. The language is lucid and informal; technical terminology is kept to an absolute minimum.

"This is a concise book that cuts down to the bare bones of psychiatric knowledge. Written from the position of the psychoanalytic psychiatrist, it provides the layman with an absorbing introduction to a subject that everybody talks about and few understand."

SPEECH CORRECTION--PROGRAMS

332. Schwab, Margaret Jo.

A recreation program for handicapped children. (Corvallis, The Author, 1948) 98 p. Typed.

Thesis for Master of Education, Oregon State College, 1948. Unpublished.

"The problem of this thesis is to propose a recreation program for handicapped children, specifically those with speech and hearing handicaps. This program is the type which may be used during a summer program in which the children receive intensive speech training."

BULLETIN ON CURRENT LITERATURE

The publications listed in this issue have been received by the library of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults and are available for loan. The library does not stock copies for sale. Prices are listed, when known, so that orders may be addressed directly to the publishers. The publications are listed by author and title under the subject heading by which the item is cataloged and filed in the library. The subject headings in the Bulletin can be identified by being in all-capital letters.

Because the library may have only a limited number of copies of any item listed, and because of the great number of requests frequently received, it is suggested that the resources of local libraries be investigated first. The services of the library are extended to organizations and individuals whose local resources are so limited as to make information otherwise unavailable. It is understood that the borrower agrees to pay shipping charges for sending him the loan material and for returning it to the library.

The National Society for Crippled Children and Adults is a nationwide organization with headquarters in Chicago and more than 2,000 member state and local societies for the crippled and handicapped throughout the country. Its many projects and services are directed and supervised by professionally trained specialists. The Society provides services in health, welfare, education, rehabilitation, recreation, and employment to all types of handicapped persons. All services of the Society are established and carried out in a manner to supplement and extend and not to duplicate or compete with the services of any other agency, public or private. The National Society is supported by the annual sale of Easter Seals.
